What is Bullying

Bullying is where people are repeatedly unkind to someone in a serious way. Most of the time people bully others to try feel better about themselves by making some other people seem worse than they actually are. If you're getting bullied tell a teacher, caregiver or a parent.

Physical Violence

Physical Violence is where people punch, kick, shove, and pulling etc it's pretty much where people physically hurt someone with actions. If this is happening to you then tell a caregiver.

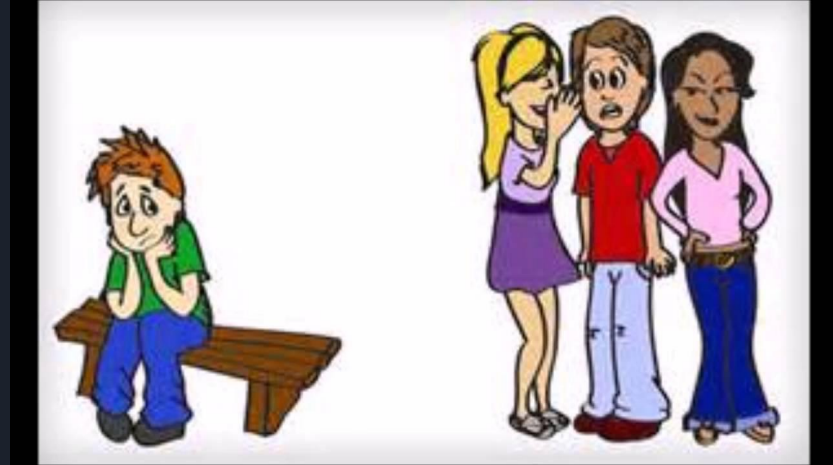

Verbal Violence

Verbal violence is where people hurt each others feelings by using words. You might have heard the saying sticks and stones may break my bones but words will never hurt me. But if you have been verbally abused then you know that that saying isn't entirely true.

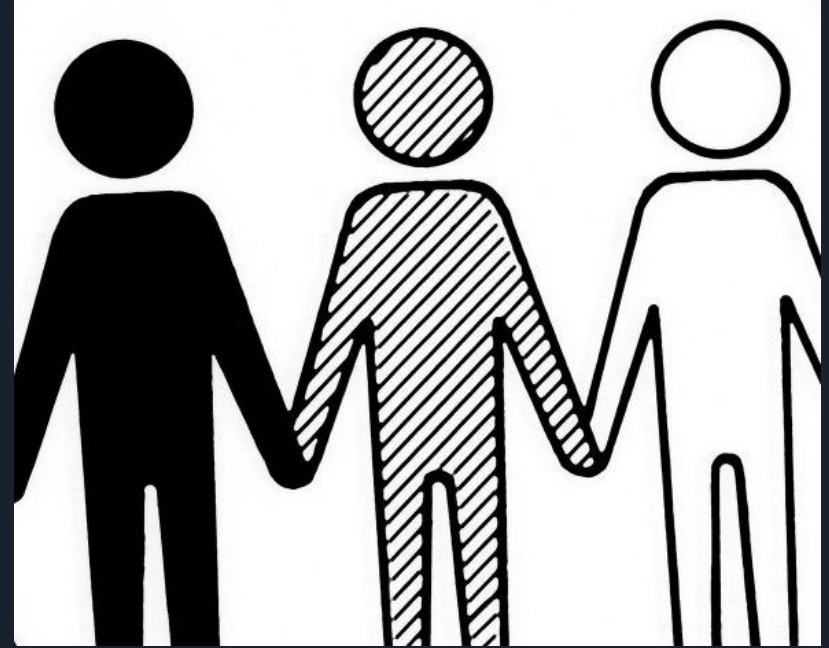

Social Violence

Social violence is where you exclude someone from playing in the same game as you and not allowing someone to work with because of their race or something.

Racism

Racism is being unkind to someone because of their race such as being mean to someone because their chinese/japanese/korean. Or being mean to someone because of them being a different colour skin to you. Or thinking its okay to be mean to someone by speaking in a different language. Or mocking someone about their accent in a non joking manner.

Cyber bullying

Cyber Bullying is a form of bullying where people send anonymous unkind texts to others through Pc/phone/devices to make someone seem unsafe or unwanted at this specific game and or spreading rumors and lies, and maybe teasing then.

Stealing

Stealing is where you take someone's stuff without their consent. The forms of stealing could be coming in to a place after shifts and taking stuff. Or maybe pick pocketing someone.

Scamming

Scamming is another form of bullying but this one is pretty serious. Scamming is where someone send a message such as “i'll pay you 3 million dollars just give me your bank account details” and then they just end up stealing all of your life saving. Some people have ended up homeless because of this.

Framing

Framing is where you act like some else is bullying other people. Instead of you doing it. The way most people frame others is by bullying others while another person that has bullied someone before so the people think that the other person did it.
